

Bloodborne Pathogens Test

Please complete this form, date it and return to the Education Department of the New York Conference in order to get credit for completing the training.

Name: _____ Date _____

School: _____ Position: _____

Answer all questions.

1. Hepatitis B is an infection of which of the following?
 heart liver
 bones lungs
 none of the above
2. Infected blood can enter your system through which of the following?
 open sores abrasions
 cuts acne
 all of the above
3. _____ are practices and procedures that assist in the prevention of contact with blood and other body fluids.
 universal precautions blood transfusions
 personal protective equipment warning labels
 none of the above
4. True or False. Food and drink can be stored in close proximity to where blood or other potentially infectious materials are present, as long as they aren't touching.
5. When cleaning up a bloodborne pathogens spill, which of the following should you NOT do?
 use disposable gloves
 dispose of waste in an unlined waste container
 wash hands thoroughly with warm water and soap
 contact your supervisor
6. True or False. You should complete the "Employee's Report of Injury" form if you have been exposed to bloodborne pathogens.
7. True or False. You should physically cover all exposed skin lesions, abrasions or cuts to protect yourself from potential bloodborne pathogens exposure.
8. True or False. Uncontaminated needles may be disposed in regular trash bags.
9. True or False. Hand-washing can prevent the spread of over 95% of infectious agents.